

Harry B. Humphrey, cereal pathologist, in whose office Potomac Division first conceived.

President S. P. Doolittle (VC&D)--seated at the center of the table-- discusses plans for the ninth annual meeting of the Potomac Division, American Phytopathological Society, with an executive group composed of other officers and members of the program committee. They are (l. to r.) G. E. Cox (Md.), Helen Sherwin (FC&D), H. Rex Thomas (VC&D), C. A. Thomas (TM&SC), J. B. Demaree - Fruit

Feb. 1952

Potomac Division officers, March 1955, L-R: J.G. Leach, WVA. U., Vice President; H. Rex Thomas, Beltsville, President; W.D. McClellan, Beltsville, Councilor; L.O. Weaver, U. MD., Sec.-Treas. during annual meeting at Beltsville.